Review

"Published under a single cover is a most wide-ranging presentation of moveable structures. The big and the small, the sensible and the quirky, the rustic and the deluxe, the serious and the entertaining, even the exotic, are offered on the pages of this new book. In the times in which we currently live, these projects - some more than others, of course- cannot help but inspire ideas and cause one to ponder the possibilities of an alternative approach to habitation. Now, let us imagine for a moment that everyone lived in a yurt or a tree house" Anna Sansom in DAMn , A Magazine on Contemporary Culture.

From the Back Cover

We live in a world in movement, and this is reflected in what we build and how we live and work. There is a new necessity to analyse the challenges that architects and designers face in creating spaces that can be rapidly constructed, taken down and even relocated. New Portable Architecture reveals the cutting-edge techniques that allow static architectural forms to go mobile through a fascinating range of examples of portable architecture that will capture the reader's attention and imagination. The most up-to-date and comprehensive work on the subject, New Portable Architecture is an in-depth compilation of one of the newest areas in architecture. It covers a wide range of possibilities within the field and, at the same time, it provides a unique fusion of creative design, adaptability and sustainability.
